HostSouth is a destination and meetings management, tradeshow and event production company. Our experienced staff will work with you to collectively represent all services available to obtain the goal of a professionally produced convention, tradeshow, program, or event. Providing suitable venues and accommodations, flexible programs, cost-effective services, well-maintained equipment, knowledgeable staffing, professional empathy, and creative ideas – we will adapt our strengths to your needs. With 25 years of experience we have produced a variety of types of events including the list on the left.

Event Planning

a special event can be as creative as the idea

Prior to your event we will sit down and discuss with you ideas, visions, and goals of your function. We can help with choosing a venue, finalizing a desired theme and ambiance, as well as picking out any required equipment and decorations. We will analyze the specs of the building or outdoor area in relation to the expected number of attendees in order to create the optimum flow of foot traffic throughout the occasion as well as placement for the equipment. We can also help coordinate and schedule food and catering, security, traffic control, parking, permits, environmental graphics, sponsorship, promotion, freight, and anything else that your specific event may need. We understand the need to blend your requirements with the appropriate venues using the right programs and fulfilling the most demanding appetites for a useful, enjoyable, memorable experience – on a budget. HostSouth can provide realistic approaches to obtain these goals.

Event Management

expectation management is how we ensure event satisfaction

Once everything is planned and prepared for we will deliver and set up all the equipment to the venue and decorate for your event. If anything needs shipped, it can be sent to our warehouse and we will hold your freight for you then deliver it at the time we are setting up for it. Before, during and after your event we will make sure everything gets done on time and everything is where it is supposed to be so your attendees will have only a pleasant and memorable experience. From a private party, corporate function or association meeting to a festival for thousands, HostSouth has the experience, expertise, and hands-on ability to make the event successful.
